

HOTSOFA®

Take a seat on the heat

When I was a little boy I loved to sit with my back against the radiator. When I was older, I discovered that you could also sit on the radiator, ideally the one next to the window. I always put a little cushion on top of the radiator to make it more comfortable. I spent many hours sitting on my warm seat looking out of the window. Of course I had no idea that my radiator cushion would be the inspiration for Hotsofa many years later when I developed my ideal seating solution.

As a designer, I am always looking for functional designs that will fill our modern lives with pleasure. And best of all is to discover a meaningful product application that nobody has yet thought of. This was the case with Hotsofa. Many people seeing Hotsofa for the first time can't believe that it's actually a novelty. That's why my design motto is: "Good things seem have existed forever".
